

THE LINCOLN DINNER COMMITTEE take pleasure in announcing that there are still a number of the souvenirs distributed at the Lincoln Dinner, given under its auspices at the Waldorf-Astoria, which are available to members of the Republican Club who could not be present at that time.

The souvenir consists of a beautiful bas-relief representing the boyhood of Lincoln, from a famous painting of Eastman Johnson. The sculptor is

THE BOYHOOD OF ,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Mr. Oreste Azzoni, of the Petrax Company, New York. The plaque is $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches deep, $8\frac{1}{2}$ by $10\frac{1}{2}$ inches in area, and is delicately colored by hand, true to the original painting, and is framed in a handsome shadow box. It is considered one of the finest souvenirs yet distributed at the Lincoln Dinner, and is well worthy a place in any home or office.

Orders may be mailed or telephoned to the Club by members, and the souvenir will be delivered as directed. The price is $5.00, which may be charged to the House Account of the members ordering, or checks may be drawn to the order of The Lincoln Dinner Committee.
